

International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics

Side Event with the
12th Open-Ended Working Group on Ageing
April 12, 2022

10:00 a.m. – 11:15 a.m. Eastern Time

Click here to join: 951 9982 6537

OLDER PERSONS' CONTRIBUTIONS TO SDG13: ACTION AGAINST CLIMATE CHANGE

Older persons are at increased risk for some of the worst effects of climate change, yet examples abound of their contributions to mitigate environmental destruction. Expert panelists will discuss the psychological resilience of older persons who face climate disruption and become ambassadors of change. Strategic actions undertaken by older persons in various countries to prevent and reduce the effects of ecological change will be discussed, recognizing older persons as rights holders in climate action and response planning.

SPEAKERS:

Toni C. Antonucci, PhD, University of Michigan, IAGG Secretary General

Martha Bial, PhD, Fordham University, UN IAGG Team

Helene Hoi Lam Fung, PhD, Professor, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Nancy A. Pachana, PhD, Clinical Geropsychologist and Co-Director of the University of Queensland Ageing Mind Initiative

